Friends (TV Show)

Hello, everybody! I am Georgiana your English teacher and founder of SpeakEnglishPodcast.com. My mission is to help you speak English fluently. Speaking English is easier than it seems! You just have to use the right material and techniques.

Hey, do you watch TV series to practice your English? Let's talk about that. One of the most popular series of all time is...can you guess it? No, it's not House of Cards. Let me give you a hint: Currently, it's the most watched TV show on Netflix. Still, not a clue? Well, I'm talking about "Friends". You know: Rachel and Ross, Monica and Chandler, Joey and Phoebe. Right?

Not only is "Friends" entertaining, but also it's an excellent resource for improving your informal English by learning tons of phrasal verbs, and slang.

In this episode, I'd like to talk about this TV show. By the way, I recently rewatched all the seasons in a row. That's called binge-watching. And boy how I enjoyed it!

Apparently, when you are binge-watching your favorite show, your brain is continually producing dopamine, so it becomes an addiction.

The TV show has ten seasons, and the duration of each episode is 30 minutes. And I guess half an hour is more than enough. Besides, that makes it even more addictive. As the episodes are short, you end up watching 3 or 5 in a row.

Some say that "Friends" is still one of the most popular television series of all time for a reason: it's not just a TV show; it's a way of life. And that may be true.

Regardless of your age, gender and nationality you should watch this TV show. It's the perfect excuse to learn English and learn new expressions and have fun!

Before we continue with the mini-story, I'd like to share with you two of the most popular expressions from "Friends."

THE FRIEND ZONE

The expression "friend zone" is used to point out that one person wants to become involved romantically but the other person just wants to be friends.

For example:

"I really like you but what we already have—it's so good, and we don't wanna ruin it."

WE WERE ON A BREAK

If you've watched the show, you know Rachel and Ross went out in the second season until they broke up because of a misunderstanding.

Rachel told Ross she'd like to take a break from the relationship and Ross ended up being unfaithful to her. Ross, on the other hand, repeated throughout the show that they were on a break.

"Being on a break" is used when a person needs time to make some changes in his or her life. Maybe they're just stressed out and need some time alone. However, this expression is often used when things are not going well in a relationship.
